I. Organization and Program Information

TerraCorps is a nonprofit organization working at the intersection of land conservation, sustainable farming, and local food systems to build local nonprofit capacity while growing the next generation of emerging leaders committed to making a difference at the community level. We value the power of local nonprofits to best understand and serve their communities, and our goal is to help them succeed by providing them access to the AmeriCorps national service model to build organizational capacity.

TerraCorps partners with a network of 40+ nonprofits in Massachusetts and Rhode Island focused on community needs related to local land conservation and sustainable agriculture. These partners provide service sites for a new cohort of up to 52 AmeriCorps service members annually who serve in one of five coordinator roles focused on:

- Land Conservation
- Land Stewardship
- Sustainable Agriculture
- Community Engagement
- Youth Education

Service members are paired with a site supervisor who provides them guidance and mentorship while they learn to manage community programs and projects over a 1,700-hour service term.

Service member will be serving at Opacum Land Trust. Community Engagement Coordinators focus their service activities on building connections with community-based constituencies using a multitude of communications, educational, and organizing strategies. Opacum Land Trust is a not-for-profit organization whose mission is to conserve, protect, and steward the land and waters of South Central

MA for the benefit of current and future generations. We have 3 full-time staff members and a volunteer Board of Directors who work hard to fulfill our mission. Opacum Land Trust has helped to conserve more than 4,100 acres of land, and we have continuing projects to protect more lands and waters in our region.
